The Britou-Moore Academy for the Gifted and Talented is an accelerated academic program.

The philosophy of the Britou-Moore Academy for the Gifted and Talented is to expose all students to an enriched, rigorous, academic course of study which will prepare them to compete and excel in today's global economic society.

The academy is dedicated to two students who met their untimely death in the days following their middle school graduation in 1996.

Both students Marc Clief Britou Jr. & Jason Francis Moore, excelled academically, as well as socially.
